THE PHILIPPINE COMMISSION

Senator McLaughlin May Be Appointed on It

HE IS AN ARDENT EXPANSIONIST.

Talk About His Probable Successor in the Event That He Retires From the Senate.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Senator Mc-Laughlin, of South Carolina, whose name is being used in connection with a prospective appointment upon the new Philippine commission, was seen yesterday. The senator refused to discuss his proposed selection, saying that the office had not been offered to him as yet, and he could not discuss it until he received some intimation from President McKinley tendering him the appointment. Senator Mc-Laughlin's selection would be pleasing to southern people, and he is in every way qualified for such an appointment. He is one of the most popular members of the senate from the south, and the senators, irrespective of party have joined in a recommendation to the president asking for his appointment. From talks with the senator, it is believed that he would seriously consider an acceptance of the position.

The only contingency which might lead Senator McLaughlin to decline an appointment of this character, is the fact that he still has two years to serve in the senate, and is reasonably sure of a reelection at the expiration of his present term. The senator, however, is an ardent believer in the expansion policy of the administration, and so is somewhat out of line with the majority of the democrats in and out of the senate. The colleague of Mr. McLaughlin, Senator Tillman, is opposed to the president's policy in the Philippines.
Being thus out of line, might lead the senator to accept a place upon the commission, where his service to the country would be more valuable than his service in the senate of the United States.
It is known that both President Mc-Kinley and Senator McLaughlin have a mutual admiration for each other.

There is already gossip concerning the probable successor of Senator Mc-Laughlin in the event of his resignation from the senate. Among those mentioned are Governor McRae and Representatives Lattimer and Wilson.
The Dockery-Bellamy contested election case will be argued in the committee on Friday. Both Representative Bellamy and Dockery are in the city. Bellamy's side of the case will be argued by Charles M. Bushee, one of the counsel for Mr. Bellamy, who arrived in the city Thursday from Raleigh. Mr. Bushee was seen, and he stated that Mr. Dockery's case, as shown by the testimony in the case is very weak. The impression is that the majority of the committee on elections will decide in favor of Mr.
Dockery.

The contested case of Wise vs.
Young, may come up in the house early this week at first anticipated. Mr.
Wise is naturally doing all that he can to have it brought up without delay, while the friends of Congressman Young are doing their best to delay a hearing of the case in the house.

It is likely that the case of Pearson against Crawford will follow that of Wise against Young. Mr. Pearson is in the city, and is doing all in his power to get the house to speedily take up his case, as the reputation of his city is anxious to get both seats from the democrats.

Among North Carolina people in Washington are C. A. Matthews, of Charlotte; J. A. Heron, J. D. Eggleston, of Asheville; W. E. Reid, of Greensboro; M. L. Mott, of Wilkesboro.

The postoffice at Carriers' Springs, Buncombe county, N. C., has been discontinued.

Jordan S. Lyons has been commissioned postmaster at Edmonds, North Carolina.

Senator Pritchard has introduced a bill to provide for the lessening of the number of appeals in applications for patents.

ON THE ASSASSIN'S TRACK.

Ahlert Bet Goebel Would be Murdered
It is Said.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 7.—The police think they are on the track of the assassin of Governor Goebel. A mysterious well dressed stranger is co-operating with the local force here and sensational developments are expected.

A young man arrived in the city last fall whose name was George F. Ahlert, claiming that his father was a member of the firm of Hoffman & Ahlert, No. 435 East Front street, Cincinnati.
He claimed Kentucky as his home and said repeatedly that it was his evidence that acquitted Gov. Goebel of the charge of murder. He was very bitter in his denunciation of Goebel and offered to bet large sums of money that Goebel would be assassinated before he reached the gubernatorial chair. He said a near relative of Goebel's victim was pledged to kill the governor, but in case he failed to keep his word, others would not fail.
He had left Peoria some time before the Kentucky tragedy and his present whereabouts is not known.

on taxation and retrenchment will report favorably a bill to place a tax on

GIVEN ONE MORE DAY.

Democrats Say They Have Waited Long Enough on Taylor.

Frankfort, Feb. 8.—Unless some action regarding the Louisville agreement is taken by Governor Taylor tomorrow or next day, or some word sent to them concerning his intention, the democrats will proceed upon the hypothesis that he does not intend to take any action and will go ahead with the organization of his state government at Louisville. A conference was held this evening in the Capitol Hotel, at which Governor Beckham, Senator Blackburn, S. J.
Shackelford and John K. Hendrick were present. The delay of Governor Taylor in declaring himself regarding the Louisville agreement was discussed at length and it was agreed by all present that, in their opinion, the democrats had waited long enough. It was agreed at Louisville that the legislature should meet in the capitol building on Monday, and it is now so near that time that the democrats are beginning to think that Governor Taylor may take no action regarding it within the time limit set. One day more will be allowed for some intimation from Governor Taylor and if it is not forthcoming another state government will be organized at Louisville.

Governor Taylor announced tonight that he had taken no action regarding the agreement and that there was no possible chance of his doing so before tomorrow morning. He would say whether he will take any action tomorrow or not. It is practically certain that the agreement will not be accepted by Governor Taylor, as it stands. He desires more specific promises regarding the repeal of the Goebel law, and a decision in the gubernatorial contest by a separate vote of the legislature. To this last the democrats say they will not agree. Regarding the repeal of the law, they claim that no mention was made of a repeal in the Louisville conference. The talk was entirely regarding the enactment of a new election law to be framed by selected men of both parties. This law would be in the nature of things, repeal the Goebel law by the most rapid of his later legislation on the subject. Governor Taylor holds the view at present that Governor Goebel was never legally seated, and will demand a new vote on the matter before he will consent to abandon his seat under any circumstances.

Not a democratic member of the house was in Frankfort today to attend the funeral, and tonight Governor Beckham, General Catlemen, and a few other democratic leaders returned to Louisville to take charge of matters there. The report was given out that orders had been issued to arrest such members of the legislature as might come to town today, but this was denied by Governor Taylor, by Adjutant General Collier, and Col. Williams, all of them saying that orders to that effect had been issued during the troubles.

The application for a permanent injunction, restraining Governor Taylor from interfering with the sessions of the legislature in Frankfort, and from conveying it in London, was not heard today at Georgetown, as originally intended. The matter went over until tomorrow.

DRAWN TO THE SCAFFOLD.
Nearly Died of Fear Before the Hour of Execution.

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 8.—Will True-dale, colored, was hanged here this morning for the murder of a negro woman, Janie Brown, last August.

Truesdale has been very nervous the last few weeks. He completely collapsed this morning because near dying of heart failure caused by four doctors administered nitro-glycerine by hypodermic injection. Six men dragged Truesdale to the scaffold while he was making a terrible effort to escape.

When all was ready the sheriff asked, "Have you anything to say, Will?" The question was repeated and the witnesses were shocked to discover that the negro was completely unconscious. Truesdale maintained his innocence to the last.

The crime of which Truesdale was guilty was the murder of his mistress on the 23d of last August. Her body was found in the woods, terribly mutilated. Her clothing was all torn away. Truesdale was tried the preceding day for non-support of the same woman. Suspicion immediately pointed to him as the guilty man, and his arrest quickly followed.

A Robber Killed.
Chicago, Feb. 9.—A lone robber, well dressed and with money in his pockets, and a silk mask covering his features, was shot and killed in Warren's park pavilion shortly after midnight this morning by Frank Barum, a lawyer.

The body has not yet been identified.

LADYSMITH'S RELIEF REPORTED

But the War Office Declines to Confirm the Report—Preparations for Additions to Army.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Feb. 9.—Col. Baden Powell sends word from Mafeking by a native runner, who brought out the dispatches in the stem of his pipe, that he has forty Fanian prisoners in the beleaguered town. Among them is the former station master at Mafeking.
All these men, he says, are more than suspected of holding treasonable correspondence with the enemy. The colonel sends a graphic description of his up-to-date methods in planning for defense and tells how the telephone helps the beleaguered inhabitants to dodge the shells.

BOERS ATTACK McDONALD.

New York, Feb. 9.—A Journal special from Koodoosberg drift, dated the 8th, delayed and obscured, says: The Boers made a fierce attack on McDonald's column. The battle commenced on Tuesday afternoon and the Boers were repulsed at all points toward evening, but McDonald has been ordered by Lord Roberts to retreat from Koodoosberg. The British lost fifty killed and wounded.

credits Rothchilds with declaring possibly today that Ladysmith has been relieved by General Buller's forces.
The war office declines to confirm or deny the report.

WEARY OF BOSSMIST.

Boggs Resigns as Member of Populist Executive Committee.

George E. Boggs, one of the founders of the populist party in this state, says the Morning Post, has tendered his resignation as a member of the populist state executive committee and withdraws from that party.
Boggs' attempt to force his party to train with the republicans in the fight against the constitutional amendment, and his desire to boss those associated with him, forced Mr. Boggs to leave the populist party and to return to the party councils, of which he was one of the few elect.

Mr. Boggs gives notice of his withdrawal from the populist party in the following letter:

AN OPEN LETTER TO CHAIRMAN
THOMPSON.

"Hon. C. Thompson, Chairman of the State Executive Committee of the People's Party, Raleigh, N. C.: Dear Sir:—I herewith tender my resignation of membership of the state executive committee. I do so with regret. I helped to organize the people's party in this state, and took a somewhat active part in the memorable campaign of 1892, and have since been more of my means, time and strength to advance its interests than I could afford, and entirely without any pecuniary reward, directly or indirectly.

"When fusion was inaugurated in this state in 1894, I opposed it to the utmost, and refused to take any part in it. I urged that whatever apparent gain might be secured by it such a sacrifice of principle would divide and diminish our forces and deservedly forfeiting the respect and confidence of our fellow citizens, out of recruits and, therefore, sooner or later destroy the party.

"I was for a long time encouraged to continue in my allegiance to party organization by promise of a reform and by the hope that those in control of the party would see the wisdom of any further continuance in such conduct, and returning to the defense of our principles, refuse any affiliation with any who opposed them.

"In the meantime, the majority of the party has abandoned the organization and left it in the main, if not entirely, to those who seem bent on continuing their course. Despairing of any reform inside the present organization of the party, I have determined to abandon it and become one of this outside majority.

"I am as earnestly devoted to the principles of the people's party as I ever was. There are as thousands in the state who are of like mind—in fact, populism is more widely accepted today than at any time in the past, but without organization nothing can be done to secure the adoption and enforcement of these principles. If I was otherwise qualified to take an active part in organizing this latent sentiment, my poor health would prevent me from undertaking it. I can only watch the current of events.

"I am not in the least discouraged.
There are abundant indications that the great revolution that has already been fully inaugurated has not been overthrown, but simply balked for a time. This is always sure to happen to all such movements, as the history of our country abundantly proves.
Unwise and selfish conduct on the part of many of the leaders in the movement, is mainly responsible for the present state. The present wave of populism is lulling some into security, but such will ere long be awakened as this prosperity is only on the surface and will prove, like its many predecessors, only temporary.

"Under the surface the storms are raging away on the vitals of the country with more virulence than ever.
"If the masses were disposed to become indifferent to their real condition, the plutocratic oligarchy, that is now indirectly but none the less truly running the government and ruling us with a rod of iron, would not allow them to remain so. They are by their excesses constantly calling to mind the old adage 'whom the gods wish to destroy they first make mad.' But when were good and selfishness ever called to mind? When did vaulting ambition ever fail to overlook itself?

"There is abundant evidence that the discontent and unrest among our people is broadening and deepening.
It is extending more and more to those who are unduly conservative. They are at last getting their eyes open to the evils that environ us, and to some extent to the perils that confront us.
"I do not despair of the republic. I have the fullest confidence in the patriotism, courage and intelligence of our people. It is only a question of time when they will become united and move forward to the overthrow of the despoilers. I am very sure it will not be under the banner of either of the old time parties. There is every indication that it will be a new movement that will be entirely free from the passions and prejudices that would en-umber it if moving in any of the old channels.

"I agree fully with Rev. Dr. Josiah Strong, that this will be one of the three great revolutions of modern times. The first gave religious, the second gave civil, and the new one under way will give industrial freedom.

"Geo. E. Boggs.

Frankfort, Feb. 7.—Governor Taylor finally refused last night to sign the peace protocol, and now it is war to the bitter end.

The democratic seat of government will be taken to Louisville while the republicans will hold forth at London, temporarily, at least. The leaders on

BYRAN IN NEW JERSEY.

He Has a Big Welcome in Burlington Criticizes Cleveland.

Burlington, N. J., Feb. 8.—Wm. J.
Byran arrived here shortly before noon today, from New York, and practically opened the campaign in south New Jersey with a speech this afternoon. This place was in holiday attire and the heavy rain did not dampen the enthusiasm of the New Jersey democrats. Most of the manufacturing and business places closed at noon, which gave workmen and others an opportunity of seeing and hearing the distinguished N. J. politician.

A subcommittee of seven of the reception committee of one hundred, met Colonel Bryan at Trinton, and escorted him here. Mr. Bryan was enthusiastically greeted by a large crowd and a brass band. He was entertained at dinner by the reception committee and spoke this afternoon at Rigg's Hall, which was jammed with people long before hand.

Mr. Bryan arraigned the republican party, and added that in every fight that the democratic party had fought against plutocracy it has won.
The republican party is organized to enrich with gigantic wealth upon the rights of the poor, and he said it was the duty of the democratic party to stand guard and protect the common people against the greed of the wealthy. The democratic party did not organize to disturb the peace, but it will not let those rest who rob the people.

He took up the financial question and incidentally criticized Grover Cleveland. He said Mr. Cleveland was repudiated by the democratic party because of his financial views, and that he then helped to elect Mc-Kinley. Mr. Bryan discussed the income tax and then took up the question of trusts. He said:

"The people of New Jersey ought to know something of trusts, because it is the home of trusts. The republicans have made New Jersey the robber's roost, the Cave of the Forty Thieves, where they divide the swag after sweeping the country. The republican party says to the Jerseyman that trusts are a good thing because of the revenue that flows into your state treasury. The people of New Jersey should show more morality and try to stop the creation of trusts, rather than the interest displayed in getting a percentage of the rate off."

Colonel Bryan closed with an extended discussion of the Philippine question, and raised a whirlwind of applause when referring to the Boer war, he said that "the English have not yet reached Ladysmith, and God grant they never will."

Mr. Bryan tonight addressed 2,000 people in Turn Hall, at Patterson, N. J.
He said his efforts were devoted to bringing the rich and poor together.

Legislature of 1899.

Between those who really desired protection against over-powerful capital and those who have thrown themselves into the habit of persecuting the railroads and the corporations the general assembly pursued a steady and commendable course. The passage of the bill to render foreign corporations subject to the state courts, and that to provide separate cars for the races clearly indicated the assembly's independence. The quick response to appeal for a more equitable adjustment of the merchants' purchase tax showed a fine disposition to treat capital justly.
The failure of the effort to induce upon the railroads a gross income tax at the same time providing for such taxation if it shall come to be expedient, indicated the desire of an independent assembly not to go to extremes in obedience to any clamor. The passage of an anti-trust law may indicate either the opposition of the members to the trusts or it to laws for it is not to be hoped that the law passed, or any other law, will make an end of trusts.—J. W. Bailey, Editor Biblical Recorder.

TAYLOR AN ACCOMPLICE

Since the first announcement of the shooting of Governor Goebel in the capitol grounds at Frankfort and the accompanying statement that moun sin ruffians stationed with arms in the executive building, where was located the office of Taylor, would not allow the police or citizens to enter and search for the assassin, we have regarded Taylor as an accomplice. We have heretofore so expressed it, and the following from the Chatham Record shows that we are not alone in our opinion:

After a desperate struggle for life Governor Goebel died on last Saturday afternoon, having survived from Tuesday a wound which the doctors said would prove fatal in a few hours. The assassin has not yet been arrested, nor is he known. If it be true, as is alleged, that the assassin fired from the building in which Taylor had stationed armed men he may justly be condemned as an accomplice, especially when, after the shooting, he refused to allow any admission to the building for those who wished to search for and arrest the assassin.

Taylor may not only be condemned as an accomplice to the assassination of Goebel, but he should be denounced for attempting to convert the legislature in Laurel county, where the life of no democratic leader would be safe. And there can be no doubt of Taylor's motive in converting the legislature there. And Taylor cannot be too severely denounced for his defiance of the mandates and orders of the courts. He has deliberately and defiantly disobeyed the orders of the courts, and has placed the military over the civil law. He should have taken warning from the downfall of his brother republican governor in North Carolina, who was impeached and removed from office for just such unlawful usurpation of power.

The Charlotte Observer of the 28th issues to remark:

Those who criticised the irreverence of Col. Wm. J. Bryan for making use of the "crown of thorns" and "cross of gold" terms in his speeches during the last campaign were evidently given little thought by that gentleman, for yesterday's dispatches credit the silver leader with the utterance: "I am more conservative than Jesus Christ, who drove the money lenders out of the temple because they made it a den of thieves." Bob Ingersoll would have shrunk from such a declaration.

The article published in this paper yesterday on "Manila's Curse" shows that America is doing a sorry business over there. The "spread of Christianity" has received a backset so far as Manila is concerned, by the advent of the saloon and the spectacle Americans are making of themselves there. It is strange how any one can believe the doctrine of "Peace on earth, good will to men," can be promulgated by first shooting a people into submission and then learning them how to debauch themselves. What an idea the more intelligent Filipino must have of the religion professed by the American!

During the last campaign this paper stated that it believed Chas. B. Aycock should be the next democratic nominee for governor of North Carolina. And without disparagement to the claims of the other prominent candidates, Col. Cunningham and Mr. Justice, either of whom would be a safe leader and make a good governor, the writer is still of the opinion that Aycock should be the man. Between the three it is hard to make a choice. They are all clean and able. But in point of service to the democratic party, a thorough knowledge of the conditions and needs of every section of the state, pre-eminent ability as a campaign speaker, Aycock is unexcelled. He is good and great anywhere and everywhere. In his quiet home life and daily associations in his home town—Goldsboro—he is the same modest, earnest, able man and sincere friend that he appears on the stump. The longer a man knows Aycock the more he likes him and the more firm becomes his conviction that he is a man worthy of any trust.

Buying Hay in America.

London, Feb. 8.—In the house of commons today Joseph Powell Williams, financial secretary of the war office, stated that the government was purchasing large quantities of hay in North and South America because it was more conveniently packed and cheaper than British hay. He stated that he had no knowledge of any hay having been supplied from these countries.

The new torpedo boat Goldsborough will have her trial trip in Elliott Bay, on the Pacific coast, in a few days.

One Woman's Ruling Passion.

"There goes a woman," said the girl, "who hasn't a thought on earth except dress. I know that superior man attributes this particular weakness to all women—but it's a canard, as of course are nine out of ten of male estimates of women."

She conquered a refractory button on her glove before she continued: "But that woman who passed us is, without doubt, the most dress crazy woman I have ever met. She knows no topic save dress—can speak of no other subject. She spends one half of her time at her dressmaker's, and the other half is used in exploiting the handicraft of the modiste. Goodness only knows when she manages to get anything to eat. She's dead to every feeling, I believe, except that which has to do with dress. And what do you think she said Saturday? I met her as we were going out of a house of mourning. A young woman whom we both knew had died, and we had been at the funeral. Coming down the steps I noticed my friend, but the feeling of sorrow was too fresh upon me to permit anything more than a nod of recognition. For half a squall she walked beside me without troubling you to come in for the purpose. Then I said, 'Poor dear Clara—alive and well one week ago, and now—she's gone!' 'Yes,' answered my friend blandly, 'but wasn't she dressed beautifully? Really, it was a treat to see her!'" Philadelphia Press.

A Matter of Temperatures.

The little one's mother had said, "Now, doctor, if there is any rise of temperature, there is great on temperature, by the way—I will send for you at once. As you know, I have a clinical thermometer and can take the temperature myself without troubling you to come in for the purpose." So I was going to bed I was startled by a violent ring at the bell and, hastening to the door, saw a terrified domestic, who gasped: "Oh, sir, please, do come round quick! Miss Marjory is worse. Missus said I was to tell you her temperature is 108 and is rising fast."

Scarcely waiting to put on my hat, I rushed round to the house of my little patient and discovered the whole family assembled in the sickroom awaiting the end of poor little Marjory, the mother wringing her hands in agony and crying dreadfully.

"What's the temperature now?" I almost shouted in my agitation.

"Oh," sobbed the mother, "I haven't dared to look since! My poor darling! it was 108, and they say that 105 is always fatal!" And she broke down completely.

Without wasting any more time I turned down the blanket and—found that the thermometer had been thrust between the child's side and arm and the bulb imbedded in a freshly applied hot poultice—Chambers' Journal.

On the Menu Is Chile.

For several days I noticed the word "panqueque" upon the bill of fare at the hotel and did not know what it was. There is a brand of wine from one of the Chilean vineyards, with that name, and I supposed it was perhaps the same thing referred to, although it was difficult to understand why it should appear among the desserts on the menu at the dinner table and on the bill of fare for breakfast. The best way to find out about such things is to try them, and the next morning, being in an experimental mood, I ordered a "panqueque," which, to our amazement, was an ordinary griddle cake. Then it dawned upon my dull perceptions that the attention of the head waiter to the discovery, and he seemed quite astonished. He could speak English well and claimed to be familiar with the cuisine of America. Therefore he did not see anything unusual in my discovery, and I rather regretted that I had not asked him to be remarked in a surprised tone:

"What do you call a pancake in America?"—Cor. Chicago Record.

The Butler Bible.

One of the interesting articles that each governor of Massachusetts transmits to his successor is the Butler Bible, the history of which General Butler wrote on the fly leaf as follows:

Jan. 1, 1864.
When I came into the executive chamber a year ago, I could not find a copy of the Holy Scriptures. I suppose each governor took his away with him. I friend gave me this. I have it as a needed transmission to my successor in office to be read by him and his successor, each in turn.

PESSIMISM CHECKED.
"No," he complained, "I have never succeeded in getting anything for nothing. I have always had to strive hard for everything that has come to me."

"What about the mumps you had last winter?" his wife interrupted.—Chicago Times-Herald.

SALT RHEUM CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come. The Only Safe Way is to Start with Johnston's Sarsaparilla. Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistakes.

Many a lingering, painful disease of warning has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Randle, of Marshall, Mich., writes: "I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I bought the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors or skin disease of any kind to try it at once. I had also a good deal of stomach trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each.

A Curious Ashanti Custom.

When children are born in Ashanti, they are at once rubbed all over with a mixture of oil and red ochre, this being repeated every two days. These rubs are washed with a fiery concoction in which red pepper is the main ingredient, and a cry goes through the town proclaiming the new arrival and claiming for it a name and a place among the living. Some one else in a distant part of the village acknowledges the fact and promises, on the part of the people, that the newborn babe shall be received into the community. The townspeople then assemble in the streets, and the baby is brought out and exposed to view.

A basin of water is provided, and the headman, or chief of the town, sprinkles water upon it, leaving it a name and invoking a blessing upon it, such as, for instance, that it may have health, grow up to manhood or womanhood, have numerous progeny and possess riches. Most of these present follow the example of the headman, and the poor child is thoroughly drenched before the ceremony is ended. Every one who participates in the ceremony pledges himself to be a friend to the child.

Rice as a Detector of Thieves.

Not being able to trace anything in connection with the loss of the 2,000 rupees from the cash safe of the Surati Bazaar company, the directors have resorted to astrology and finally sorcery. Every employee of the bazaar was given a mouthful of rice to eat which had been previously put through some magical preparation, the belief being that if the person who had taken the money ate the rice some very great misfortune would befall him. It is not recorded that any of the employees have yet met with a disaster.—Rangoon Gazette.

A Staggering Tale.

"Briggs is awfully hoarse this morning."

"Yes. You know how damp it was last night? Well, Briggs and his wife stood on the corner waiting for a street car, and Briggs' wife started in to say something, and Briggs stood there for fully a half hour with his mouth open trying to get in a word edgewise. That's where he got his hoarseness!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A New Arabic Notation.

There is a city magistrate living up town who is possibly raising a mathematical prodigy in the person of his 3 or 4 year old daughter. She has only recently begun to attend the kindergarten and yet mediates changes in the system of enumeration now in vogue which, while startling, are certainly suggestive.

When asked the other day to count, she hesitated some and then lisped: "None, some, one, two, free, fore."—New York Times.

Too Much Sugar.

Dr. Patchen of New York says, "If every living person were to diminish by 90 per cent the amount of sugar he now consumes and maintain its use at this standard, in less than one generation the number of physicians now practicing would be diminished by one-half, and two-thirds of the present number of drug stores would be closed."

Will Power.

SHE WANTED GOLD.

One Woman's Idea of the Money to Desist in a Bank.

Most comical stories are told at the expense of the fair sex regarding their lack of familiarity with banks and their methods. One came to the ears of the Scribes at apparently has the merit of newness.

"My wife had saved up her pin money, or what she hadn't had occasion to use of it," said the relator of the story, "until she had $40 in bills of various denominations. This she was extremely desirous of securing gold for, and every day when I came home to dinner she would haul me over the coals because I had forgotten to procure the shining metal. Finally she said she would attend to the matter herself. That evening she greeted me with a triumphant smile."

"I got my gold," she exclaimed as soon as I entered the house, "but I had a time in doing it, though."

"Then she told me how she had gone to the mint with her bills and been refused the coveted coin because the notes weren't good notes. Next she hustled around to a bank and secured four $10 gold pieces. These didn't suit her because they weren't new and shiny, so she trotted back to the mint with them and exchanged them for two double eagles, fresh from the dies. I listened to her recital and asked her to let me see the coin."

"Let you see them?" she exclaimed in surprise. "Why, I haven't them any more, you know."

"Haven't them any more?" I repeated. "What did you do with them?"

"She looked at me with mingled scorn and contempt."

"I deposited them in the Savings bank of course. That's what I wanted the gold for. What did you think I was going to do with them? Keep them around the house to look at?"

"But I was too busy laughing just then and for half an hour afterward to make any reply."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Say Nice Things.

We do not like to be told of our faults.

We do not want to hear references to our weaknesses when we are at a disadvantage. Yet we deplore the prevalence of flattery. We make all manner of fun of our friends who display a weakness for that social pest. And yet there are few of us who, if the flattery be not too freely administered, as "with a shovel," do not imbibe it greedily and pine for more.

Every one remembers the anecdote of Dr. Holmes when he was enthusiastically applauded and to a somewhat exaggerated length.

"Don't you get awfully tired of this sort of thing, Dr. Holmes?"

"Not at all," said the dear old man, frankly. "They never clap quite hard or long enough to please me. I presume that I could stand it for hours."

Born to Lead.

"You remember young Carpley, who used to have an ambition to be an actor, don't you?"

"Well, he's playing a leading role now."

"You don't say so! By George, I never thought he had it in him!"

"Rich with an Uncle Tom's company and leads the bloodhounds in the street procession."—Chicago Times-Herald.

One Grateful Descendant.

"This," said the guide, "is the grave of Adam!"

Historic spot! With reverent awe—may, with a feeling of deep thankfulness—the wealthy merchant tailor on his first trip to the Orient drew near and cast a flower on the tomb.

"Erring ancestor," he murmured, "I should be the last man on earth to owe my prosperity to your sin!"—Chicago Tribune.

Subletties of Phrase.

"Do you think your new production is in for a long run?" asked the friend.

"It is impossible to state at this early day," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes. "The members of our company are still in doubt as to whether they are in for a long run or a long walk."—Washington Star.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

Daily Smallpox Report.

To Z. V. Taylor, Mayor: I have to report the following as the condition of the smallpox cases in the city limits:

Number of cases, per last report... 23
Number of new cases today... 4 Number of cases discharged today... 1

Total No. cases in city limits... 28 Number suspects released today... 8 Three of the new cases occurred in infected quarantined houses, and one —a nursing baby—has been in the hospital with her mother for two weeks.
This report looks discouraging, but we expect cases to occur in the houses under quarantine.

A PLEASED AUDIENCE

Big Success of the "Roney's Boys"
Last Night.

We were assured that those who held tickets for the "Roney's Boys" concert last night would get the worth of their money. They did, and more.
The newspapers where they have been did not exaggerate the merits of the entertainment given by them.

Mr. Blatchford Kavanagh, formerly known as "the boy Paul," now a famous baritone soloist, was great, and his rendition of "My Old Kentucky Home" was especially enjoyed. Mr.
Kavanagh and Master Crippen, in a short song sketch, entitled "Romance and Juliet" proved themselves actors as well as singers.

The boy cornetist, Master Arthur Goff, is the equal of any we have heard. He is simply a marvel. Master Francis Murphy, contralto, possesses a most wonderful voice. Harry Cockrell, soprano, has a sweet, bird-like voice and uses it well. The m-soprano, James Crippen, is also a wonder. The director and manager, Mr. Henry B. Roney is a most pleasing accompanist.

It is a pleasure to announce that the "Roney's Boys" will give another concert at the academy tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock, in order that more of the young people and children may have an opportunity to hear them.
It cannot fail to be inspiring and helpful to the school children to see the high attainments reached by boys of such tender ages.

Tickets now on sale at Farley's drug store for the matinee tomorrow afternoon. Children twenty-five cents, adults 50 cents.

The bodies of Captain Anderson, of the wrecked schooner Melons, and one of his sailors have been found near the mouth of the Rio Grande, on the Mexican coast.

You can't find the match in quality or quantity to Vick's Turtle Oil Liniment—25c.

ONE THING MOST NEEDFUL

A Movement to Interest the Rural Public in Greensboro.

This is to business men only but if you will promise not to get mad you may read it.

The Industrial & Immigration Association has done untold good by making known to the business world the substantial advantages as a manufacturing centre. The various manufacturing enterprises which they have succeeded in locating here stand as a living monument to their memory. Indeed their work has been complete; they started out to make Greensboro and its great natural advantages known to the business world and they have succeeded in doing it.

The one thing most needful now is an organization of all the business men in Greensboro, irrespective of the business they are in, into a sort of mutual traders' association for the sole purpose of advertising Greensboro and its business interest to the rural trading public for a radius of from thirty-five to forty miles. The Industrial & Immigration Association succeeded in interesting the business public and there is no reason why such an organization as the above should not succeed in interesting the rural trading public. The object of this association should be to induce country people to come to Greensboro to do their trading. This can be done in many ways, one of which is by securing cheap rate excursions from all the railroads leading into Greensboro, and then giving them the highest market price for their produce, and our merchants selling them genuine bargains in merchandise. In short, make it practicable, pleasant and profitable, and they will come. Then entertain the people after they come, and make them feel happy over their sales and purchases and they will come back again. No mistake about that.

There is no mistake about the need of such an organization in Greensboro for every banker, merchant, manufacturer, editor, lumberman, tobacconist, doctor, lawyer and every other business man, will testify to his needs for more trade, and we are all ready to join such an organization and pull together for the increase of business in Greensboro. Let everybody think of this and write something on the subject tomorrow.

FOR CRIMINAL ASSAULT.

Man Arrested East of Greensboro
Last Night.

A 'phone message from Winston this afternoon says an officer has arrived there with one Thos. K. Welcher, who was arrested last night near his home, nine miles east of Greensboro, on a charge of criminal assault upon his sister.

It is said the assault was committed January 22, and since that time it is supposed the officers have been waiting a good opportunity to capture Welcher.

A newspaper man interviewed the prisoner in the Winston jail this afternoon and he claims to be innocent of the charge. He was carried to Winston jail on account of smallpox in the jail here.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs.
George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr.
King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia.
Such cures are positive proof of the merits of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

The transport Ohio arrived at San Francisco, Cal., yesterday from Manila, bringing 150 bottles and two passengers.

The One Day Cold Cure.
Kermott's Chocolate Laxative Quinine for cold in the head and sore throat. Children take them like candy.

Baldness
Can be Cured

Just so long as there is a particle of vitality left in the hair roots.
The fact that the hair is smooth and shining is no positive proof that the roots beneath are dead.

Deep down beneath the skin, hair roots are often killed with vitality, and all that is required is a gentle stimulation of the hair in the hairfollicles of the proper agents.

Seven
Sutherland Sisters' preparations furnish the easiest, surest and quickest way to ascertain if hair is dead or living. Why not try them?
